FOUND HIS WIFE.

As mentioned in yesterday's Gazette, Mrs. Annie McConnell Robertson, the lost bride of Russell E. Robertson, was located yesterday afternoon at the Florence Crittenton Home, Washington. She sought refuge in the home after getting lost from her husband on Saturday afternoon.

Robertson left his bride of seven months standing at Fourteenth and Corcoran streets on Saturday afternoon while he made inquiries for a furnished room. When he returned in three-quarters of an hour his wife was gone.

He searched for her all that evening, and the next day notified the police. There was an element of mystery in her disappearance.

Yesterday Mrs. Robertson read in the newspapers of her husband's search for her, and notified him of her whereabouts. She said she got tired of waiting for him, and, wandering about the streets, became exhausted and went to the Florence Crittenton Home. The authorities at the home showed her newspaper accounts of her husband's search, and she communicated with Robertson.

Mrs. Robertson and her husband, an actor, were in Washington about six weeks ago. They had come from Pittsburg, Pa., where, it is stated, he starred in the "Fat Baby" and "Ossified Man."

At the time of their visit six weeks ago they told of how their theatrical experience had reduced their finances. They hoped for better success in Virginia.

They applied for transportation to Fredericksburg, expecting to join a theatrical company there. Their request was denied and they came to Alexandria.

Last Friday they returned to Washington. The husband obtained a position as waiter in a 14th street cafe. Saturday night the couple went in search of quarters in the neighborhood of his business.

Robertson found a room at 1786 14th street. When he returned to the church his wife had gone. It was not until last night, however, that he applied to the police.

A FORTUNATE EXPEDIENT.

With his leg broken in two places, John Anderson, of Little Falls, Oregon, was found on Mount St. Helens, in Oregon, last Wednesday, by a Seattle party of the Mazamas, a club of mountain climbers, who, to save his life, carried him to the summit of the mountain at the imminent risk to themselves in an improvised stretcher made out of a sleeping bag. He was slid down the north side of the great peak for 4,000 feet to the Mazamas camp, where medical attention was given him.

The injured man was shot down the mountain side at almost lightning speed, tied to his rescuers with ropes. Physicians say that had not this expedient been followed Anderson would have died of his injury.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea, I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Butherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

NEVADA MOUNTAIN IS THE TALLEST.

State Engineer Nicholas has just returned from Reno, Nev., from an official trip to Mount Jeff Davis, in White Pine county, where he confirmed by actual survey his original report that the mountain is 14,706 feet high, or 200 feet higher than any other peak in the country. He has also confirmed the report of what is known as the "Spectre of Brocken," a strange phenomenon which often occurs on the mountain top.

When white clouds are to the east of the mountain they take up the image of the person or object on the apex of the mountain, reflecting it hundreds of times its size along the sky. This strange specter drove a band of Indians from the mountains in the early days, and since that time it has been looked upon with awe by the red men of that state.

The government has official record of one other mountain in Germany where this same condition occurs occasionally. Nicholas has started an investigation to determine the cause.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, AUG. 11, 1908.

IN THE Atlantic Monthly J. O. Fagan returns to his charge that most of the railroad accidents are due to disobedience of orders, the result of lax discipline. The publication by the Pennsylvania Railroad of a bulletin announcing cases of discipline, one case being a suspension for six weeks for neglect of a signal in the danger position, gives special interest to a portion of this article. Mr. Fagan says that most of the railroads are using some modification of a merit system invented by G. R. Brown, at one time a vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Under this system men are punished by receiving demerit marks, and occasionally some particularly good conduct on their part will cancel some of these. But the marks are known only to the men themselves, and they do not cost the men anything unless the demerits should accumulate to a point at which discharge would result. Mr. Fagan regards publicity and fines as infinitely more likely to make the men attentive to signals and obedient to orders, though it is admitted that it creates "irritation" among them. The Pennsylvania Railroad has been taking measures recently to improve the discipline on its lines. Some months ago it gave out the results of tests of obedience to signals, showing not only a very creditable attention to the signals, but an improvement since a previous test. Now the posting of disciplinary bulletins announcing the suspensions of men for various periods for different offenses suggests that the Brown system of secret merits and demerits has been abandoned on the line where it was invented for a system more resembling the administration of justice in the community.

THE AMERICAN manufacturers of boots and shoes pay higher wages than foreign manufacturers do, and the cost of their leather is enhanced by the tax on hides. Yet they are exporting almost a million dollars' worth a month and selling them where wages are lower and materials are free of tax. The Free Union of German Shoemakers is alarmed at the imports of American shoes, and is resorting to new schemes opposing the invasion of German markets. The German Shoe Manufacturers' Association would not allow American goods to be exhibited at annual exposition in Berlin. The shoe manufactures here says the Philadelphia Record have offered to waive all protection if they could have free raw material, and many other industries would be glad to make the same exchange. The protective system oppresses the manufactures by the taxes it puts on materials.

WHEN the residents of Schiller Place, St Louis, grew tired of waiting on the city to pave the street they did it themselves on a Sunday, men, women and children working all the day, and standing all the expense. Since they finished their street paving they have put in numerous other improvements and now are preparing to spend a Sunday making sidewalks. The men did the most of the work, aided by the women, and the children carried material and ran errands. At 11 o'clock the women "knocked off" and prepared a lunch of coffee and sandwiches, resuming work with the men when they had finished lunch. The walks likely will be built next Sunday. Last Sunday the people of Schiller Place constructed 54 feet of sewering for their homes. This is a good example which the people in other cities might follow.

SECRETARY WRIGHT has promised that he will announce the fate of the eight suspended cadets in a day or two. The Philadelphia Record says: "We trust that he will get the president and the assistant secretary of war and Assistant Secretary Forster, attached to the president's establishment, to sign his announcement, so that there shall be no room for controversy or doubt. The country desires to know whether those eight cadets are in or out."

MR. PAYNE, chairman of the House committee on ways and means, denies that he is a candidate for Governor of New York, and says: "My present ambition is to be re-elected to Congress and help revise the tariff." Great Scott! If Mr. Payne helps to revise the tariff any way but upward, two Sundays will come together.

THE TOYS of millionaires is what Captain Thomas S. Baldwin, the aeronaut, says about airships. And they are even a little more dangerous than that other toy—the automobile.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 11.

Congressman Hay, who was here yesterday on his way to Capon Springs, said: "I look for Bryan to carry Virginia by a larger majority than that by which the State usually goes democratic." I believe Bryan will be elected.

When the State Department receives the official report of United States Minister Beaupre's conference of yesterday with the minister of foreign affairs, at The Hague, with reference to Venezuelan affairs, it is expected that it will contain a hint as to the means by which Holland hopes to be able to bring Castro to terms for expulsion of her minister, de Reus, and for the other unpleasant and arrogant acts which have so seriously affected the commerce of the Dutch island of Curacao and the relations between the two governments. Within certain limitations Holland will probably be permitted by the United States to wallop Castro.

A general review of the present crop situation issued today by the Bureau of Statistics of the Agriculture Department shows a condition of the entire county somewhat better (2 per cent) than a year ago, but slightly (1 per cent) below the average for the past ten years at this season.

James M. Harrison has been appointed postmaster at Swetnam, Fairfax county, Va., vice J. R. Taylor resigned.

Both the War and State Departments denounce as a fake the story that this country has prepared plans to send an army of 5,000 men to Hayti if it becomes necessary to restore order there. The same story, with details changed, might be written, it is said, of pretty nearly every country because the military experts are always busy in preparing paper plans for possible contingencies.

H. Percival Dodge, the American minister to Salvador, has been directed by the State department to proceed to Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, for the purpose of taking up directly with the Honduran government the case of Drew Linard, the American consul at Caibs, and Deputy Council Reynolds whose exequaturs were recently cancelled because of the belief that they had been unduly friendly with the revolutionists in the recent abortive attempts to overthrow President Davila. The State Department believes that Honduras has acted hastily and upon ex-parte evidence in this case, and thinks that a personal talk over the matter will result in reaching a better understanding and a possible revocation of the action against the consular officers.

Virginia News.

Peter Johnson, colored, was shot and killed at Norfolk, yesterday, by Walter Compere.

The case of the two-cent passenger rate in Virginia will be decided early in the session of the Supreme Court, which convenes in October.

Ensign John J. McCracken, United States navy, son of Capt. T. McCracken, of Fredericksburg, and Miss Alice Kiernan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Kiernan, were married yesterday at the residence of the bride's parents in Norfolk.

Menhaden fishermen in Lancaster county have been making big catches of fish for the past two weeks and report them still plentiful. Most of the factories are getting about all they can handle. They are very fat, producing about 8 gallons of oil to the thousand.

Another drowning was added to the summer's long list at Norfolk yesterday afternoon when the fast steamer Virginia ran so close to a rowboat filled with young men that it was capsized, throwing them all into the water. Three of the young men—Woodward Vaughan, John Morris and another unidentified lad—succeeded in grasping the upturned boat, to which they clung, but Dudley Thompson, a young employe of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, from Danville, swam away from them apparently dazed and was drowned.

THE RAILROADS WIN.

Justice Barnard of the District of Columbia Supreme Court yesterday decided that the District commissioners must sign the certificate authorizing the payment by the secretary of the treasury to the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company of $1,500,000 toward the cost of the Union station.

The court directed that a writ of mandamus be issued compelling the commissioners to sign the certificate.

The railroad company demanded the certificate some months ago, but was advised by the commissioners that they would decline to issue the certificate until the substation in south Washington had been completed and the superstructure of the New Jersey avenue bridge placed in position. The company brought proceedings in mandamus, and a hearing was held last Thursday.

The court adopted the argument of the railroad attorneys that all the work required by the act to be done has been completed and that the words, "connecting lines," used in the statute, cannot be stretched to cover the lines complained of by the commissioners, and the removal of which they suggested should be assured before the certificate was used.

This is a remarkable decision, as no sub-station in south Washington has yet been built. Congressman Carlin was instrumental in holding up the money, but the railroad influence was too potential. The commissioners will appeal.

Police today are searching for Mary Moore, who dressed as a man, used a crowbar to pry open the bars of the jail at Saregent, Ky., and freed her husband Charles Moore, who was held for murder and bigamy. With Moore three other prisoners held for lesser crimes, also escaped.

The mechanical force employed at the Southern Railway shops in Spencer, N. C., were materially increased yesterday when a number of the old employes were called back to work after five months of enforced idleness. They are to work full time.

Another mixed marriage between white and black, accredited to the social equality which a negro believes he has in the nation's capital, was authorized in New York yesterday when a marriage license was issued to Frank Ross, white, 36 years old, and Bulia Coats, 22 years old, a negress.

When a large boiler exploded at the York Rolling Mill at York, Pa., yesterday afternoon, eight workmen were instantly killed and more than a score were injured. The city was shaken and many buildings in the vicinity of the wrecked plant were considerably damaged.

Congressman Sereno E Payne, chairman of the house committee on Ways and Means, denies that he is a candidate for governor of New York state. Mr. Payne said yesterday: "I am not and shall not be a candidate for governor. My present ambition is to be re-elected to Congress and to help revise the tariff."

Mrs. Mary Rowden, 65 years old, and Mrs. Rose Beckwith, 43 years of age, were instantly killed and Fred Beckwith, 45 years old, perhaps fatally injured and Bessie Beckwith, 16 years, his daughter, badly bruised and burned by the explosion of their automobile at the foot of Stickney Hill, about eight miles from Painesville, Ohio yesterday.

In a rear end collision Saturday night between passenger trains of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas and International and Great Northern railways, which occurred at the Galveston end of the Bay bridge, Engineer Rothenberg, of the International and Great Northern train, was killed and a negro porter was fatally hurt. A number of passenger suffered with various degrees of injuries.

Loaded with what they have been plundering the country for years, hundreds of Turkish government officials of the old regime are now hurrying for the other side of the frontier. Though many have been arrested, the total number caught is but a a small proportion of the known offenders. The latter include practically every one from top to bottom of the official class. It is estimated that the government has been robbed of $200,000,000 through official corruption in the last twenty years.

Several hundred operatives at the Lane-Maggins Cotton Mills in New Orleans have gone on a strike, leaving only a small working force in the mills. The company recently announced that on account of stagnant condition in the cotton goods market it would be necessary to close down unless the operatives would accept a cut in wages. It was understood that a large majority of the operatives agreed to the reduction, but when it went into effect yesterday only a small proportion of them remained at work.

Governor Comer, of Alabama, last night issued a proclamation calling for a cessation of disorders in the state, accompanied by the threat that he would immediately invoke the entire strength of the state to suppress any and all trouble. Deputy sheriffs and the military in Bibb county made thirty arrests on Sunday and yesterday in connection with the attack on the special train with strikebreakers and soldiers aboard in which three men were killed and eleven wounded on Sunday morning.

As a sequence to the separation of church and state in France, and incidentally because of the mourning of the bridegroom, the marriage in Paris yesterday of Madeline Anne Marie Fallieres, daughter of the president of the French republic, to John Jean Joseph Edward Lanes, the president's secretary was not attended with the special brilliancy which one might expect would embellish the nuptials of the daughter of the president of France. Nevertheless the function was a memorable social event, for all France, irrespective of rank or situation in life, showed a warm, genuine interest, evidencing the sincere affection with which President Fallieres is held by the people of France.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children. It tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

WEDS HOTEL CLERK.

Mrs. Howard Brolaski, one of the richest and most beautiful women of St. Louis, astonished her friends in New York yesterday, when it became known that she had married W. W. Norton, a clerk of the Plaza, who was long at the old Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Mrs. Brolaski's first husband was, at the time of his death, president of the Grant Shoe Company. He left his widow about $1,000,000. Mrs. Norton was married last Monday immediately after her return from a European trip.

She is stopping in the city with Mrs. Rude her sister, and Mr. Norton is still at his desk at the Plaza, but it is declared he will go into business for himself in the near future.

BUSH MEETING.

Interest in the temperance chautauqua or bush meeting at Purcellville, Loudoun county, continues unabated. The attendance increases daily, and is largeer than during its 31 years' existence.

On Sunday three sermons were delivered by the Rev. Richard Wilkinson, of Augusta, Ga. The programme yesterday was entirely musical. Today's addresses will be delivered by Gov. Glenn, of North Carolina, and Judge William Hodges Mann, of Virginia.

Tomorrow, the last day of the chautauqua, Gov. Swanson, of Virginia; John G. Capers, of South Carolina; Congressman C. C. Carlin and United States Senator Thomas S. Martin, of Virginia, will be present. The chautauqua will close tomorrow night with a concert by the Marine Band, of Washington, D. C.

MONEY TO BURN.

"Somebody will be glad to get this," said a passenger on the Boston and Chicago special between Albany and Utica Saturday night, as he tore up bills of various denominations and threw them out of the window. It is said he also tore into shreds a mileage book and some papers which he had in his possession. The passengers were amazed at the man's actions, but as the money was his own, so he said, no one interfered.

The man was well-dressed. His ticket read to Waukesha, Wis., and he carried letters bearing the name William Foley, 184 Harrison street, Boston.

RAPID WORK.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company has just completed a remarkable engineering feat in replacing the car tracks in front of the Borough Hall in Brooklyn. This set of surface car switches and curves is probably the most complicated in the world, and during a single hour of the rush period approximately four hundred and fifty cars pass over the tracks at that point. A gang of two hundred and fifty picked men was put at work on the renewing of the tracks at 7 o'clock Friday night, and after three nights of rush work the complicated contract was turned over to the operating department at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The rails are made of the heaviest manganese steel and laid in solid concrete, but even this construction can only be expected to last for five years.

Emperor and King.

Cronberg, Aug. 11.—Emperor William, in the uniform of one of his crack regiments, met his royal uncle, King Edward, wearing a silk hat and black frock coat, at the Cronberg station this morning. The kaiser kissed him on both cheeks, according to the German custom. King Edward then embraced the kaiser. Both entered a motor car and were whirled away to Friederichsof Castle, two miles distant.

The kaiser's suite all wore imposing military uniforms, while all the members of King Edward's entourage wore silk hats and black coats.

While Edward and William were in conference, Sir Charles Hardinge, permanent secretary of the British foreign office, and the German Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs Herr von Schoen conferred in an anti-room at the castle. After a few hours, the four joined in a conference. Before midnight, the king will proceed to Marienbad.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Blackheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of Dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 77

Uncle Remus's Magazine for August has been received from its publishers in Atlanta. It opens with the pathetic announcement of the death of Joel Chandler Harris, its editor; the writer asserts that this magazine was the crowning ambition of Joel Chandler Harris's life and that in his last illness he said, "If what little I have done is found worthy of commendation tell the people of the south to let the magazine succeed." His son, Julian Harris, succeeds him as editor and general manager. A story by Joel Chandler Harris is published and "Roosevelt presents a suggestion" These with other clever fiction and articles, verse, reviews etc., make up a most desirable number.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Fleet at Auckland.

Auckland, N. Z, Aug. 11.—Rear Admiral Sperry played host today instead of guest, entertaining the members of the legislature at luncheon on board the American flagship Connecticut. The occasion was marked by the same warmth of feeling and felicitous expressions that have characterized all the functions in honor of the American officers and sailors.

While the luncheon was in progress, a thousand sailors from the fleet were exploring the town, most of whom were under the guidance of entertainment committees but many preferred to go alone. Scores of the latter enjoyed the role of beaux to to the delight of the Auckland maidens who could not resist the lure of the American uniform. Theatre parties, rides in decorated electric cars, and a visit to Mount Eden, an extinct volcano, were a few of the day's amusements.

Tomorrow a rifle team of sailors will compete with the New Zealanders. In order to permit this, Thomas Thomson, the commonwealth minister of state, had to suspend the regulation preventing the landing of an armed foreign force.

Auckland, N. Z, Aug. 12—The officers of the American fleet started this morning on a three days trip to Botura, called the New Zealand "Yellowstone," on account of its hot lakes and geysers. Botura, in North Island, is one of the greatest show places.

A big racing programme has been arranged at Ellerslie this afternoon and the sailors are planning to go en masse, for it will probably be the "sportiest" event of the week.

Not a Temptress.

Hurlock, Md., Aug. 11—Thomas Carew, who thoroughly thrashed the Rev. Stephen P. Shipman, pastor of the M. E. Church, here, when he found the pastor in a room with his wife, has filed in the Circuit Court of Somerset county a petition for absolute divorce from the woman in the case, Lena Virginia Carew.

Shipman's excuse, "The woman tempted me," and his declaration that he repulsed her, when she came to his room in the dead of night, are declared a lie by Mrs. Carew. Beyond that denial she would not talk when interviewed, but her mother, Mrs. Todd, denied that her daughter was a temptress.

"For shame on Shipman," she said, "Oh, a man must be a coward who will get behind a woman's skirts to save himself. The world will never know the truth of this story for neither my daughter nor myself will be witnesses in the suit for divorce."

In answer to Shipman's protestations of innocence, Carew still maintains that he saw the pastor go to his wife's room and she later returned to the room where he attacked the minister.

Dr. Samuel Windsor, who bound up Shipman's wounds, after the beating, indicates, though he will not say so absolutely, that Shipman confessed to Carew in his house.

Mr. Taft.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 11.—Arthur I. Vorys, Mr. Taft's Ohio adviser, came in today and from now until election day will be with the candidate most of the time. Chairman Hitchcock is expected tomorrow.

The West Virginia tangle is still in evidence. Senator Elkins and Charles W. Swisher, the regular republican candidate for the governorship, are both camping on Mr. Taft's doorstep, and Swisher expects to make a strong appeal to Hitchcock for aid.

"Mr. Taft will carry West Virginia very easily," said Senator Elkins, today. "The split in the party is not serious enough to endanger the national ticket. Democrats putting Jim Crow and disfranchisement clauses in their platform, hurt their ticket. Gompers will find he cannot deliver the labor vote as he hopes. The laboring people will be found split up, some for the republicans and some for democrats this year as usual."

Defeats Revolutionists.

Vienna Aug. 11.—After the bloodiest fighting that has yet marked the long series of clashes between the Tabriz revolutionists and the loyalists, the latter has again captured the city and are in complete control, according to messages received here today from Teheran The loyalists who had been camped without the city, attacked the revolutionary strongholds with desperation when they learned that an army of young Turks was on the border, only awaiting word from Constantinople to rush the aid of the revolutionists. The success of the attack and the complete rout of the shah's enemies has strengthened the shah in his determination to resist Turkish interference to the last.

Constantinople, Aug. 11.—The porte is doing everything in its power to prevent the young Turks from interfering in the fight now being waged between the Persian government and the revolutionists at Tabriz. This, however, is not likely to have a deterring effect as the young Turks are carrying things with a high hand and are practically immune from interference from the sultan.

After the Assailants.

Boston, Aug. 11.—The Boston manhunt is in full cry again. A bold assault last night on Mrs. W. T. Cornell, a wealthy New York woman, who is a guest at Magnolia, has helped spread the terror among the summer residents, and many are hiring private guards for their estates. Behind the whole trouble is believed to be the gang of Boston anarchists from whose ranks came the Letish and Lithuanian desperadoes who shot up Jamaica Plain a month ago killing three and wounding three. Saturday night they murdered two constables. Boston police are now being assisted by the police of all northeastern Massachusetts. A posse of nine is now on the trail of the nine suspected men between Boston and Lowell. One of the men carried his arm in a sling.

Killed His Wife.

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—Pierre Palazo owner of a milk ranch near here, is under arrest today charged with the murder of his wife by beating her to death with the handle of a pitchfork in the barn at their home while she was helping milk their herd. The man is said to have become enraged because the woman had hidden a piece of birthday cake in the barn where he found it.

For this trivial matter he is alleged to have beaten her so badly that she died in a few minutes, after which he went to deliver milk as was his custom and was arrested in a saloon along his route.

To Notify Bryan.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—Every train that has reached Lincoln, today, has brought its full quota of democrats to participate in the exercises in connection with the Bryan notification tomorrow. The result is that conferences galore have been held, Mr. Bryan especially insisting that the several committeemen from the doubtful states tell him exactly how the battle of votes is doing. The consensus of opinion among the chieftains now gathered here is that the democratic sentiment is on the increase everywhere. National Chairman Norman E. Mack was one of the arrivals. He will preside at the notification exercises. The nomination by the democrats of former Vice President Stevenson for governor of Illinois, gives the democrats a decided advantage and he believes that the split in the republican party as a result of the feud between Deneen and Yates will be carried to the polls and will result in the democrats carrying the state. Mack also considers democratic success reasonably sure in Indiana, West Virginia and New York, where he declares the campaign is already at fever heat.

The most important political conference so far as the democratic party is concerned, since the opening of the campaign, began this afternoon in Bryan's home and will continue until late tonight. In attendance are Bryan, his running mate, John W. Kern, National Chairman Norman E. Mack, and several other members of the national and executive committees. Ways and means for handling the campaign are being discussed, as well as to the manner in which the battle in the middle west, the south, and wherever disaffection is reported, and also New York state, is to be fought.

It is learned that Mack reported the result of his recent conferences in New York with Murphy of Tammany Hall, Connors, and others. It was emphasized that the national committee and Bryan are to keep hands off in the empire state.

The leaders there will select the state ticket, and the understanding here is for the most part, the democratic state officers, who were elected two years ago, will be re-nominated.

Lamb declares that there is little question of the election of "Tom" Marshall in Indiana.

Daniels has only recently returned from a trip through the south. He reports conditions there all right.

Charles Edelman, member of the notification committee made an earnest appeal to Bryan today, to come to California to speak. He is a banker of San Francisco and declared that if Bryan will only visit the coast, he can serve the electoral vote of California anyhow, with a good chance of getting Oregon and Washington.

Byrnes declared the republican party will have the greatest "stay at home" adherents election day in its history, and he ventured the prediction that the electoral vote of the three states he has been in will be recovered for Bryan and Kern.

Fire Still Raging.

Winnipeg, Aug. 11. — Special dispatches from Cranbrook, B. C., say that an offsheet of the big forest fire that wiped out Fernia, Michel, and other towns is still raging near Sullivan, and that it is possible that the building of the Sullivan Mine Company may be destroyed. Another Fire menaces Kimberley and if the wind does not shift, that town is likely to go up in flames. Owing to the strike on the Canadian Pacific no engine is available to remove two hundred fire fugitives rescued and those in Fernia camps from the burned district, it is not known where the women and children who have lost their all in the blazing forests will be taken to the refuge camps.

Mushrooms?

South Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 11.—John Ungvary, an Austrian botanist, who has been raising mushrooms here, with his whole family are today near death as the result of eating toadstools. Ungvary himself picked the vegetables from his beds, his chef prepared them; within a half hour after they were eaten doctors were working desperately to save the lives of the whole family. MOTOR BOATS RACED.

As stated in yesterday's Gazette the Alexandria yachts were refused admission in the races today from Washington to Marshall Hall. The start was from the foot of Seventh street wharf at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the following boats were entered:

Allen Shackeford's Dash; Cumberland's Twenty-three; H. H. Hollander's Blanche H.; O. E. Smith's Maty C.; E. E. Terry's Dart, and R. B. Brown's Skedaddle.

Some of the Alexandrians have been asked to accompany the fleet with their boats to and from the points of starting and be photographed after the races are over. The reason, as stated before, the Alexandrians were not admitted, is that it was a private affair of the Royal Arcanum of Washington. Many sail and power boats were on the river when they passed this city about 3.30 o'clock this afternoon on the way down and will reach this city on the way up the river between 5 and 7 o'clock this afternoon. The excursion boats were crowded and the wharves in this city contained a number of people anxious to see the race.

HEALTH BULLETIN.

We have received a copy of the first issue of the Virginia Health Bulletin published in Richmond by the newly organized health department. In undertaking this work the publishers say: "The chief motive impelling us in great faith in the possibilities of preventive medicine. The old expression that 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure' but feebly expresses what can be accomplished if people only knew and put into practice what science has but recently made known about the causes of disease and the means of prevention. To give this knowledge to the people and to endeavor to have local communities put it into practice is the purpose of this State Health Department."

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Sadie Jackson, colored, arrested by Lieutenant Smith, for abusive language toward Moses Simms; fined $5.

Thomas Cunningham, colored, arrested by Chief Goods and Officer Rawlett, for trespassing on the property of Joseph Chichester; declared a vagrant and given 30 days in jail.

Jack Beach, Jacob Brooks and Evie Stanton, all colored, arrested by Officers Henderson, Sampson and Sherwood, for assaulting and cutting; each fined $10.

Joseph Caly, colored, arrested by Officer Garvey, for disorderly conduct

JOEL M. COCHRAN & CO.

On the corner of Royal and Cameron streets, presided over in Alexandria by Mr. Charles E. Jones, of this firm, is one of the most prosperous liquor firms in the south, besides having a large establishment in Charlottesville at which the senior member of the firm, Mr. Joel M. Cochran, spends most of his time. Quality of goods has established the reputation they enjoy, and this coupled with courteous treatment and affable clerks has won for them a distinction in the business world seldom enjoyed by anyone. No store in this city is better arranged or kept in better trim.

HORSE THIEVES AT WORK.

In addition to the highwaymen operating in the county, horse thieves have appeared on the scene and are doing a little business on their own account. Mr. R. B. Woolf, who lives just outside of the city, in Alexandria county, reported to the police department last night that three horses had been stolen from his stable. The officers are working on the case and expect to round up the thieves.

Late this afternoon Mr. Woolf reported to police station that he recovered his horses about two miles from his place. He does not know whether an attempt had been made to steal them or whether they were turned out of his stable as a joke.

GALES OF WIND.

One of the most amusing cases of disorderly conduct, which has ever been witnessed in the Police Court was one heard by Justice Caton, this morning, when a middle-aged colored woman named Gales, was charged with abusing another colored woman. Her testimony was rich in the extreme. The trouble started in Friendship alley, and ended in the station house.

HAITI TO THE FRONT.

The whole Simms family on south Royal street was in the Police Court this morning when they complained about another colored woman assaulting and abusing them. The evidence was very conclusive that the woman was guilty, and as she is an old offender the police justice assessed her $2.50. She went down.

AMUSEMENTS.

In the cool of the evening when everything is dull it is pleasant to know that there are places of amusement which one may attend. The moving picture houses seem to attract large crowds and judging from reports the shows are excellent. As will be seen by their advertisements there will be a change of films tonight.

LARGE EXCURSION.

One of the largest colored excursions which ever left this city went up the Loudoun road to Leesburg this morning on five special cars. The steamer River Queen landed about 1,000 from Washington at the wharf here where they boarded the train for the camp meeting in Loudoun.

FREE USE OF KNIVES.

With clothes bespattered with blood and torn, with faces and heads bruised and bleeding with fingers almost severed from the hands, two negro men and one negro woman were called from below by court Officer Sherwood to answer the charge of a free fight with knives. The trouble started at a pool room on Princess street last night and ended at the residence of one Alice Kitts, the hallway of whose home looked like a hog killing this morning. It is no unusual occurrence to see some of those who occupy this residence in the police court. This time the son of Mrs. Kitts—Jack Beach—and a negro named Brooks and a woman named Stanton who lives there were in trouble. Justice Caton fined each one $10. This house furnishes more revenue for the police court than any ten in the city.

CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL.

As is the custom gentleman hang up their coats just previous to entering a game of dominoes or euchre at the different public houses in this city. Before this time no trouble has ever been experienced, but, owing to developments, care had better be exercised, as "Jack the Toucher" is at work and was caught a day or two ago examining a pocket of a coat which he knew was not his, and when remonstrated with after being found with a pair of spectacles, said he "just wanted to try on the spectacles." If you want safety, when you hang your coat, hang it on your back with your arms in the sleeves.

CEMENT WORK.

One of Hook's Practical Jokes.

Theodore Hook forged 4,000 letters to 4,000 tradesmen and others requesting them to call on a certain day and hour at the house of a wealthy widow, Mrs. Tottenham, in Berners street, London, against whom he had conceived a grudge.

These people began to arrive soon after daybreak. The rush continued until nearly midnight. They came by fifties and hundreds.

There were 100 chimney sweeps, 100 bakers, fifty doctors, fifty dentists, fifty accouchers. There were priests to administer extreme unction and Methodist ministers to offer last prayers. There were fifty confectioners with wedding cakes, fifty undertakers with coffins, fifty fishmongers with baskets of cod and lobsters. They pushed, quarreled and fought, and the police were called out to prevent a riot. Finally among the hoaxed ones came the governor of the Bank of England, the royal Duke of Gloucester and the lord mayor of London, each lured thither by some cunning pretext. A police investigation followed, but the perpetrator was not detected.

A Wonderful Bowman.

The Romans were very skillful bowmen, although they discarded the weapon in warfare, trusting to the charge and to hand to hand fighting. Many of the Roman emperors were famous archers. It is said that Domitian would place boys in the circus at a considerable distance from him and as they held up their hands with the fingers outstretched he would send the arrows between them with such nicety and accuracy of aim that he never inflicted a wound.

The wicked emperor Commodus boasted that he never missed his aim or failed to kill the wild beast that he shot with a single arrow. He would set a shaft in his bow as some wild beast was set free in the circus to devour a living criminal condemned to die. Just when the furious animal was springing on his prey the emperor would strike it dead at the man's feet. Sometimes 100 lions were let loose at once in order that he, with 100 arrows, might kill them. With arrows the heads of which were semicircular he would sever the necks of ostriches in full flight.

A Talent For Balancing.

The pleasant coffee room of the old Star and Garter at Richmond, which was burned down in 1869, was patronized by England's statesmen, politicians and writers. On Saturday evenings it was regularly visited by a middle aged gentleman of rather broad stature, with gray hair and a large shirt collar which formed a conspicuous feature in his attire. He would dine always alone at a particular corner table, and after dinner it was his humor to build up before him a pyramid of tumblers and wineglasses, which he topped with a decanter. Occasionally the whole structure would topple over and litter the table with its ruins. Then the middle aged gentleman would rise, pay his bill, including the charge for broken glass, and depart. The waiters knew him well. He was Thomas Babington, Lord Macaulay.

Curious Greetings.

A French journal has been looking into the question of how different races express the colloquialism "How do you do?" and presents some curious examples. The Koreans, for instance, do not give or imply any offense when they greet each other with the remark, "You do look old." Persians say, "May Allah preserve your beard and cover it with benedictions." Among a tribe of Fiji islanders the correct form of salutation is to pull one's ear. A Caroline islander kneels before his friend, whose foot he grasps and slaps himself vigorously in the face with it. In the Sudan a traveler was addressed by a native chief as "Mighty sun," the said chief finishing up with "Glory to thee. O splendid moon," the remark being accentuated by expectorating in the traveler's right hand.

Greatness.

There is a kind of elevation which does not depend on fortune. It is a certain air which distinguishes us and seems to destine us for great things. It is a price which we imperceptibly set on ourselves. By this quality we usurp the deference of other men, and it puts us, in general, more above them than birth, dignity or even merit itself. —La Rochefoucauld.

A TYPICAL REPORT.

The Bungling Bookkeeping of Austin's Water and Light Plant Scored by the City Auditor as a Mere Memorandum.

The report of the auditor on the annual water and light report was read at the council meeting last night and is submitted below in full. The report contained some startling statements regarding the methods of the department, and it was heard with considerable interest by the councilmen.

Auditor Morris began by saying that the report was incomplete in many respects; that he had not investigated its shortcomings further than the 1907 report, as instructed, and that in doing so he had tried to keep from being personal. He stated the following matters of which there were no mention in the report: Uncollected earnings, rebates, charity, credit balance on customers' accounts. Among the poor features of the system he mentioned the improper handling of extension advance earnings, showing how the system worked in this connection.

He showed many points where the annual report differed from the department ledgers, the latter being short on water, light and power showings. He said that after he had tried to find the discrepancies there had been handed him loose leaves, with the statement that they had been found. Even then, he said, the figures did not tally, and some more loose leaves were found, and still the figures did not tally.

He showed where a total of $16,210.20 was paid on payrolls that had not been approved, as required. He showed where numerous payments for damages had been charged to such expenses as "materials and repairs." He also showed the making of payments in cash before the warrants for the payments had been drawn.

One particularly interesting statement was that of the reduction of the debit side of the ledger to make it equal a disbursement of which there was no record. He showed further that the statement of the city treasurer did not tally with that by the department. He showed where 1907 cash payments had been posted as 1908 or 1908 payments. He showed where the penalty charge had been omitted in many cases.

He criticised the lack of any check on the stock in the warehouses and, summarizing the general bookkeeping, said it was no system at all, merely a memorandum. He closed with a number of recommendations.—Austin (Tex.) Statesman.

Taxpayers, Stop and Figure.

We have $60,000 invested in a municipal waterworks plants. It did not pay expenses last year by several hundred dollars, where it should have shown a large and increasing profit. The people's money is just as good as any money, and it is worth 6 per cent. This would be $3,600. The repairs and depreciation in value of the machinery is at least another 5 per cent, which would show another $3,000.

If the plant was owned by private parties they would be assessed for taxation at say $25,000. At our rate this would be $750 more. So with all these figures a novice can get a good object lesson in municipal ownership. The fire protection for Ligonier cost nearly $8,000, or over three times as much as any town pays for the same service from a private plant. Taxpayers, stop and figure.—Ligonier (Ind.) Banner.

The street railway system which was taken over by Belfast, Ireland, three years ago has proved a losing venture, and the service has had to be curtailed and many employees dismissed with the hope of putting it on a paying basis.—St. Louis Times.
